

THE CENTRAL RECORD

FOURTEENTH YEAR.

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16 1903.

NUMBER 29

Of Local Interest.

Don't forget J. Walter Wilson this evening at Christian church.

The season has finally arrived when we can pass a soda fountain and make faces at it.

J. Walter Wilson, Christian church Thursday and Friday evenings, 15th and 16th.

The Misses Shugars have rented the Mason Hotel and will assume control January 1st.

Big Potato.

Mr Joseph Faulconer gave us an Irish potato which is a perfect form of a human, the face, arms and legs being perfect.

A great deal of rock has been encountered in ditching for the water works pipes. Plenty of dynamite gets it out in a hurry, however.

The recent rains were a God-send, but now you hear the howl, "Too much rain." Man is never satisfied. Give him the earth and he will kick for a fence around it.

When the road is "rough and rugged" don't discard the old, tried and true family horse, who knows every inch of the road, and every thing at which a new horse would scare and over which he would stumble.

The Crescent Comedy Company, or Hawthorn Sisters, well-known and remembered here, for their splendid attractions in the past, with rare specialties, song and dance, will be at the Court House October 15, 16 and 17.

Card of Thanks.

The members of the W C T U., extend thanks to the citizens of our town who so generously opened their homes for the reception of guests during the recent State Convention; to the merchants for decorating windows; to The Record for favorable notices, and liberal donation of papers, and to any and all who assisted in any way in making the Convention a success.

Eason.

After a lingering illness Mrs Eliza Eason died at her home, on Richmond street Wednesday night. Mrs Eason has been a constant sufferer for some time, but bore her afflictions with a Christian fortitude that proved her devotion to her Saviour. She was a member of the Baptist church, and as long as she was able never missed attending the services. She was the widow of the late Judge Walt Eason. Funeral services were conducted by Rev J C Wolford Thursday afternoon, the burial taking place at Lancaster Cemetery.

Elder F M Tinder reports a very delightful meeting at North Middletown, closing with 27 additions. Many of the most prominent citizens among the number.

Don't, in a fit of impatience, dismiss the old family physician, who knows your ailment, the causes thereof, and how to reach it most effectually.

Lost, between Stanford and Lancaster, some ten days ago, a tie for wagon wheel. Any information sent Al Huffman, Stanford, will be thankfully received.

Barrelling Apples.

Col John Miller has been busily engaged this week picking and barrelling the apples in his large orchard, near Mt Vernon. He will have eight or nine hundred bushels of exceptionally fine fruit.

Gov. Bradley Better.

Reports from Louisville say Governor Bradley is much improved, though far from a well man. He is still confined to his bed, and has not been able to visit his office as yet. Gov. Bradley's many Lancaster friends trust he will soon be fully restored to health.

Didn't Know How.

A certain Lancaster man, at whose home several W C T U delegates were being entertained, almost starved, as he remained away from his meals because he would be expected to return thanks at the table. His name will be printed in the next issue of this paper.

The above item was printed as a "bait," and it worked. After The Record came out, five or six different men have called us aside and made personal appeals that their name be not given in this connection.

Handsome Improvements.

The National Bank directors are having the Masonic Hall put in repair and when completed, Lancaster Lodge 104 will have the best equipped rooms in the state. The roof sprang a leak some time ago, and this did great damage before located. The rooms will be handsomely papered, and the Lodge will put in some up-to-date furniture. The order now has the best "working team" it has ever had and is in a very flourishing condition.

A Fine Entertainment.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Christian church have secured J Walter Wilson for entertainments at the Christian church this, Thursday, and tomorrow nights, Oct. 15th and 16th. To night he will give illustrated songs, Poems, Moving Pictures and 100 beautifully colored views on the "Life of Christ." Tomorrow, Friday night, the beautifully illustrated recital on "Ben Hur." Admission, children 10c adults 20 cts. Everybody go and help a noble cause.

Some Valuable Property.

Mr R G Ward, who is the administrator of his brother, Wm. Ward's estate, tells us he has had many offers on the mill property and electric light plant, which are now to be sold to settle the estate. The mill is one of the best equipped in the state, and enjoys a fine patronage. The light plant is new, and the franchise runs for some time yet. This is a great opportunity for the right parties, and Mr Ward is acting sensibly in taking his time to sell it.

A Correction.

To correct erroneous item in last Record is due to Mr Eugene Pearce of Danville, to say that it was his brother, Mr Stanley D Pearce, of St. Louis, who is to marry Miss Odelline McCarthy, Nashville, Tenn Nov 4th. Mr Eugene Pearce is to be his brother's best man, only. Another erroneous feature of item, made the latter a resident of Springfield, O—a place he never saw; having been a resident of Danville since boyhood, except last five years both brothers residing and in business in St. Louis. Both men are graduates in College and University work. Mr Stanley Pearce being classmate in University of Virginia with Mr R L Davidson of this city.

Death of Mrs. Lang.

Mrs Paulina Lang, widow of John W Lang, who resided in Lancaster some years ago, died at the residence of her sister, Mrs Huffman, in Lexington last Friday. The remains were interred at Cynthiana, Saturday, Mrs. Lang was a half-sister of the late Gen. W J Landram, of this city, and was well known to our older citizens. Mr and Mrs Lang moved South some years since, where he died shortly after they located there. She was a sister of Mr George R Landram, of the Western Union Telegraph office in Louisville.

Big Lion at Stanford.

While passing through Stanford the other night, we dropped around to the Opera House, where "Rail Road Jack" was being given by a good troupe. Ed Walton, the big-hearted manager, hustled us through the door, without money and without price, for which we are very grateful. Al Huffman, who was "on" the door said "Better look out, Louis, there's a lion as big as Tubby Wilkerson up on the stage." And sure enough there was. A real live lion took one of the "leads," and played his part to perfection. This is the first "one-night stand" show ever known to carry a lion as one of the "props." Walton's opera house is one of the best equipped in this section, and Messrs Walton will not allow bum shows the use of it. When you see one billed for that play house, you may know it is a good one.

Fun.

Go to the court-house tonight and tomorrow night, and enjoy the music, the attractive comedy, the jolly dance and the beautiful song. Seats at McRoberts' 25c. Children 10c. General admission 25c.

The man with small property will suffer more from mismanagement than the wealthy class. Money is able bodied and will take care of itself. If it can't do this here it can pick itself up and go elsewhere. The man with small property can't.

Big Corn From Missouri.

Mr Jim Warner, who moved to Missouri from this county, is at his old home visiting relatives and old friends. He brought back an ear of corn which measures 15 inches in length and is as large around in proportion. He says this is nothing unusual for that country. He likes Missouri all right, but "Old Kaintuck" is still dear to him.

Opera House.

The presence of the Crescent Comedy Company at the court-house, tonight reminds us of the days when that troupe played to packed houses at the opera house. Don't miss the many strong features in this popular attraction. Plenty of music, rare comedy, songs, dances and select specialties. 10 and 25 cts. Reserved seats 35c at McRoberts.

District Teachers' Association.

The Eighth Congressional District Teachers' Association will convene in Richmond on Friday, Oct. 30, and continue through Saturday. This county will be represented by Miss Amanda Anderson and Mrs Maggie Gulley. The Association has made a splendid record during the short period of its existence, and has held some of the most interesting and successful educational meetings ever held in our state.

Bad Smash Up.

A serious accident occurred on Lexington street Saturday morning. As Mrs Jim Sutton and children were coming to town, they met an automobile run by Rev Joe Severance. The horse turned suddenly, upsetting and demolishing the vehicle and badly injuring Mrs Sutton and one of the children. A shaft was run into the horse's side and he will be of no more service. The injured people were taken into the residence of Mrs Pattie Gill and all assistance given them. They are much improved, but still suffering much pain.

Juggling With the Truth.

We are told that our money is all gone and that the only chance for water works now is to open the festive saloon. The people who say this do not handle the truth with sufficient carefulness to meet all the demands of veracity. The money is not half out, and yet the largest part of the expense of the water works has been incurred. But if $24,000, backed up by a guaranty company's bond in the sum of $100,000 will not complete a little more than half the water works, how long will it take open saloons, paying about $1,000 a year into the city treasury to finish the job? This is "rhythmic." But the appropriation will finish the job.

Right Way to Look at It.

This office is getting out the ballots for the election. County Clerk, J A Doty believes in patronizing home institutions, consequently gives all his work to home people. Any man who feels otherwise should not be elected to office. This office does the work just as well, and in every instance cheaper than the city chaps charge for it. We can print anything from a visiting card to a circus poster, and defy any man, who knows anything about good work, to say we ever over charged for our work. Every cent of money paid into The Record office is spent in Garrard county, and passes to our own people. Yet there are some people who send away for work thinking they can save possibly a sixteenth of a cent thereon.

Look Before You Leap.

The present city council has been in office for near two years, some of them much longer. They have been, are now, and will continue to be acquainted with the needs and demands of the city and its people. They are on the direct road to success in the water works movement. A new board would be at a great disadvantage from the very start and much delay and unnecessary expense would be caused by the change. A new, unbroken team, should be first tried over a smooth road. Over a rough road it would almost surely upset the vehicle, and play smash generally with the passengers, who are in this case the taxpayers of the city. Don't try an experiment which is sure to be expensive, and almost sure to be disastrous. There is neither glory nor money in the office of councilmen, the old board would gladly yield to any six men whom the taxpayers, and those vitally interested in the city's interests, would select. But these people demand the continuation of the old board until they finish work now engaged in. Don't gratify the wishes, and try to assuage the imaginary grievances of a few inebriates and incompetents, who would bankrupt the city in order to open a few hell-holes, for your boys to fall into. Don't do it men, don't do it. Don't permit it women of Lancaster, don't permit it.

We can have water works, or saloons, or both. Which will you have? Don't all speak at once.

Tried and trusted servants should not be thrown down for those who have never been either tried or trusted.

The Stanford and Lancaster boys played a pretty game of foot ball here Saturday, the home team winning by a score of two to nothing.

A protracted meeting will begin at Christian church on Sunday 25th. H D Smith, Hopkinsville, Ky., will be with the pastor, to do the preaching.

Elder Tinder will preach at Christian church next Sunday morning, but the Christian Endeavor Societies will give an open session at the evening service.

An entertainment will be given at the hall in Paint Lick tonight, Friday, by the young people and school children. Admission 15 cents. Everybody invited.

Committee Call.

The members of the Democratic Campaign Committee of Garrard county are requested to meet at the County Judge's office, Monday, Oct. 26th, County Court day, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the transaction of important business. A. D. Leavell, Ch'm. 2t.

Uncle Bob McSpadden asks The Record to say that the little jobs of work he does around the W C T U., rooms are done to show his white friends that he appreciates the favors done for him. He charges nothing for the work and says he is glad to do it. Uncle Bob is a faithful old colored man, as honest as the days are long.

Mrs. Dickerman Seriously Ill.

A telephone message from Bryantsville Saturday night announced the serious illness of Mrs S S Dickerman, of that place, and later it was reported that she was dead. Mrs Dickerman was stricken by paralysis, and lay for half a day in a trance. It was believed she was dead, but after some hours signs of life appeared. She remains critically ill, and little hope is entertained for her recovery.

I will, while they last, expose to sale at the White Elephant Store Saturday Oct. 17, 1903, 1,000 Pictures at 10 cts, choice; 500 Blankets at 24 cts apiece; 1,000 Linen Huck Towels at 7 cts a piece; 250 Towels at 4 cts apiece; 1,000 Large Towels at 8 cts apiece; 500 Bed Comforts at $1 to $2.50; Later on, the following week, 100 dozen Men's Cotton Fleece Underwear at 39 cts a garment; 100 dozen Ladies' Cotton Fleece Underwear at 24 cts a garment. All the above came from the Big Fire of M T Sheehan & Co., Boston, Mass., but can't smell smoke on them. We will have to ask the trade to take the pictures without wrapping at the price named. Remember the date, OCT. 17th. Our stock is complete in every other line. Come see it. This sale is for Cash Only. R H Batson.

Wouldn't This Jar You?

Our City Marshal, while engaged in a heroic effort to save human life, was badly crippled. His salary was continued during his prostration on a bed of suffering, but he, out of that salary employed two deputies, and the town was as well policed, and the taxes as well and promptly collected as at any time in the history of the city. In fact last year was a remarkable one for the city of Lancaster, the first year in its history in which the City Court was self-sustaining. Not only was the city court self-sustaining, but it paid a net revenue into the city treasury. This would be remarkable in the career of any city. Some of the carpers, would be critics—seem to think that they believe that the marshal should have been dismissed from service because he was disabled. Think of a judge, or a postmaster being dismissed from office because he was temporarily disabled in trying to save, and in fact did save human life,—especially where his work is as well done by others without additional expense to the government.

The Good Old Summer Time.

The good old summer time will soon be gone and jack frost will make the season for bugs and snakes to hunt winter quarters and the grasshoppers legs get stiff and refuse to work. Old Sol don't get up so early, and his rays are tempered by the finest and most bracing of invigorating and health-bearing breezes. Let us revel in this turn of the season; imperceptible in its change, but supremely joyous in what it brings to us. The pale tints of the spring flowers have already changed to hard yellows and oranges and reds. The golden rod is supreme along the highways, and its banks of sunshine enlighten the course of the traveler. For those who seek to know nature in her ripeness this is the time. The hours of light are shortening each successive day. Twilight comes earlier. Make the most of nature's day; it is her day of glory, of promise, of fruition. Nothing finer could be asked or desired. Some benighted persons there are who seem to be possessed with a desire to escape all summer and fall seasons, and for that purpose hide themselves to the other places; but for our part, we revel in the glories of the lush summer time as it is experienced and enjoyed here in the bluegrass region of Kentucky.
